

UNCLE SAM GETS NOTE FROM BERLIN ADMITTING SUSSEX WAS ATTACKED BY GERMAN U-BOAT

Washington, D. C., May 11.—The German note signed by Foreign Minister Von Jagow and addressed to Ambassador Gerard, is dated May 8, and the Ambassador's cablegram transmitting it May 9. The text follows:

Supplementing his note of the fourth instant, concerning the conduct of the German submarine warfare, the undersigned has the honor to inform his Excellency, Mr. James W. Gerard, that the further investigation made by the German naval authorities concerned in regard to the French steamship, Sussex, on the basis of the American material, has been concluded in the meantime.

In conformity with the result of this investigation, the assumption expressed in the note of the undersigned, of the tenth ultimo, that the damage of the Sussex was to be traced back to a cause other than that of a German submarine, cannot be maintained.

"Such an assumption had to be arrived at with certainty from the material in possession of the German government, for itself, and without further knowledge of the circumstances connected with the torpedoing of the Sussex, the more so as apart from the points enumerated in the note of the tenth ultimo, the following facts had come to the attention of admiralty staff of the navy through reliable information. March 24, 1916, approximately at the same time as the Sussex, an auxiliary warship left the port of Falkstone, with a large transport of British infantry on board; on this same day a transport steamer was torpedoed in the channel; a few minutes preceding the explosion on the Sussex, she had passed through a mass of ship wreckage, which created the impression that a ship had sunk at that spot shortly before. All these facts justified the conclusion that the only case of torpedoing which could be considered under the circumstances had

MORE AMERICAN CAVALRY CROSS BORDER

OBREGON AND SCOTT CONFER

Marathon, Texas, May 11.—Major Langhorne with his two troops of the Eighth Cavalry, crossed the Rio Grande into Mexico last night and are making their way rapidly southward today.

They have with them the three Mexican bandits who were captured by the employees of the Porto Rico de Boquillas mine, to guide the cavalrymen to the camp of the brigands who are supposed to be about 12 hours march inland. It is reported that K. Deemer, an American store keeper, who was kidnapped, is being held at this camp.

A company of coast artillery of approximately 150 men has been ordered here to guard the line of communication.

El Paso, Texas, May 11.—Negotiations looking toward a settlement of the American-Mexican military questions were resumed at ten o'clock this morning. The conference was attended by Major General Hugh L. Scott and Frederick Funston, representing the United States, and General Alvaro Obregon, minister of war of the defunct government, and Juan N. Amador, sub-secretary of foreign affairs in Mexico. The conference, which may be the last, was held in General Scott's private car.

General Funston desires to strengthen the border patrol by mounting two thousand infantrymen on Texas points. General Obregon points out that Texas points are suited for patrol work, as they can live on the scanty grass along the border. General Funston said that he was considering calling on the First Illinois cavalry for patrol work on the Rio Grande. He believes that Major Langhorne's troops of the Eighth Cavalry were well over the Rio Grande into Mexico today, and they have had a good chance of at least overtaking part of the bandits that raided El Paso Spring. The general said the bandits had loaded down wagons with their loot and thought this would retard their retreat in Coahuila and enable Major Langhorne's men to catch up with them.

PROCLAIM HIM PRESIDENT

SHIP TURNS TURTLE--FORTY ONE BELIEVED LOST

San Luis, Obispo, Calif., May 11.—Forty-one members of the crew of the steamship Roanoke, operated by the California South Seas Navigation Co., which turned turtle and sank when its cargo shifted during a gale 100 miles south of San Francisco, Tuesday afternoon, are missing today, and the Union Oil Company's tanker Lansing, is cruising the sea searching for four of the five life boats in which the ship's company took refuge when the steamer went down. The fifth boat drifted ashore at Port San Luis yesterday, carrying three famished sailors and the bodies of five of their mates who had died from exposure.

Captain Richard Dickson and his wife are believed lost, according to the tale of the disaster told from their hospital cots by the three survivors. When the ship lurched before plunging downward, Mrs. Dickson was thrown into the sea and Captain Dickson jumped overboard to rescue her. They were not seen again. The Roanoke left San Francisco Monday with explosives for South American ports. The arrival of the life boat at Port San Luis brought the first news of the tragedy. The three men were too exhausted to relate details. They did not know how far off shore the Roanoke sank or what had become of the other four boats. The Roanoke carried no passengers.

WILSON REFUSES TO RECALL THEM

Here are some of the American troops in Mexico who are the source of dispute between American Generals Scott and Funston on one side and Mexican Generals Obregon and Carranza on the other. President Wilson has refused to have them withdrawn from Mexico until the Mexican government has demonstrated that it is able to cope with Villa bandits. Another meeting to settle the dispute was held today in General Scott's private car. General Obregon, who is accused of playing politics in the conferences, represented General Carranza.

TURKS DEFEAT THE RUSSIANS ALONG TEN MILE FRONT

Constantinople, May 11.—(via London)—In an all day battle in the Mount Kope sector on the Caucasus front the Turks drove the Russians out of positions nearly ten miles in length, capturing more than 300 men and four machine guns, according to today's official announcement by the Turkish war office.

WHALE SKIN FOR WHITE SHOES

Seattle, Wash., May 11.—Ten tons of skins of the Beluga, or white whale, received from Bering Sea, were shipped today from Seattle to eastern shoe factories to be made into the white shoes now so popular among women. The Beluga abounds in Bering Sea and Cook Inlet, and the new fashion has stimulated the hunting of them. Only the inner skin is used, but it is so thick that four sheets of thin leather may be obtained by splitting.

To Rehabilitate All Destroyed Villages

Berlin, May 11.—(By wireless to Sayville).—The bill providing for compensation to property owners in Alsace-Lorraine and East Prussia, for war damages came before the Reichstag yesterday on first reading. Joseph Emmet, Socialist member for Muelhausen, Alsace, asked that reconstruction of destroyed villages be undertaken immediately so far as may be practicable.

Herr Siehr, Peoples' Party member, for Gumbinnen, East Prussia, stated, the Overseas News Agency says, that more than 2,000 civilians were killed or maimed for life by Russian soldiers. It was charged that the invading Russians carried col-

London, May 11.—Another shift in the line of attack upon Verdun is reported in this afternoon's war office announcement from Paris. Holding in check their forces on the west bank of the Meuse where they recently have scored important successes, the Germans have again taken the offensive on the easterly side of the stream, launching an attack near Vaux, northeast of the fortress. The attack was unsuccessful, Paris declares.

Probable speedy resumption of infantry drives northwest of the fortress, however, is indicated by the report of heavy firing by the artillery in the region of the Avocourt wood southwest of Hill 304.

The French themselves are making vigorous attacks on the German line in the Verdun region, according to Berlin, which announces an assault near Dead Man Hill, and another southeast of Hill 304. Both these attacks were broken up by German fire, it is declared.

The eastern front situation is growing more interesting with the advance of spring. All along the line the Russians are the objects of occasional sharp thrusts by the Teutonic allies. Just at present they seem to be contenting themselves with standing off these attacks and are attempting no offensive. In at least one instance they failed to hold their line, however, according to Berlin, which today reports the capture of five hundred yards of a Russian position near Seburg. Considerably increased activity

OHIO MAN HURT WHEN AIRCRAFT HITS RIVER

Washington, D. C., May 11.—One of the large hydro aeroplanes which has been flying between Newport News and Washington, fell into the Potomac river near Mount Vernon, Virginia, early today and was wrecked. Three of the occupants, badly injured, were rescued by a tug boat. Two are missing.

The machine fell about 100 feet. The tug boat which went to the rescue, picked up three men, two of whom were rushed to Alexandria to a hospital. The tug boat then returned to search for the two missing men.

Shortly after the return to Newport News, it was decided to make a return trip to Washington the same afternoon. On the trip engine trouble developed, causing the boat to alight near Mount Vernon and made the remainder of the trip on the surface of the water. Repairs were made and the return trip to Newport News was begun this morning. On board was Pilot McCauley, mechanics Philip Utter and Bert Acosta, and two passengers. Pilot J. C. McCauley, of Newport News, and Mechanician Philip Utter, of Cleveland, Ohio, bruised and badly shaken up, were taken to the Alexandria hospital.

INDIANS AS U. S. CITIZENS

Washington, D. C., May 11.—The United States will gain 150 new citizens, Saturday. They are Sioux Indians of Yankton, S. D.

Secretary Lane was on his way today as the personal representative of the "great white father," the president of the United States, to conduct the ceremonies. Incidentally, he will present the Indians with patents to their allotted lands. The action will mark the first real step in Secretary Lane's policy in giving all competent Indians full control of their individual affairs and placing them upon the same legal standing as all other American citizens. A feature of the ceremonies will be the presentation by Secretary Lane to each Indian of a leather purse, a small American flag and a golden colored badge bearing the inscription, "A citizen of the United States." He will then greet each Indian by his "white" name.

METHODISTS FAVORING INDUSTRIAL IMPROVEMENT

Saratoga Spring, May 11.—Cooperation by Methodists in efforts designed to obtain improved industrial conditions was recommended in a report submitted to the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church by the church federation for social service today. The report asks that the conference approve plans for aiding in procuring a living wage for workers, trade agreements, co-operative ownership and similar measures.

The report also urged that churches be used for social purposes and approved the development of parks, play grounds and community centers. Reform in prison administration was advocated and the report asserted that there was an opportunity for the church to use its influence in aiding officials to inaugurate plans for reform rather than punishment in penal institutions. Collective bargaining as means for employees to obtain better working conditions was approved by the report.

Columbus, O., May 11.—Governor Frank B. Willis, of Ohio, today officially became a candidate for a second term for the Republican nomination for governor, when he qualified by paying a fee of $25 and filing a declaration of candidacy. Lieutenant Governor John H. Arnold also filed his declaration of candidacy for a second term Republican nomination.

Those who signed Governor Willis' declaration of candidacy as required by law, were: Senators C. J. Howard, of Barnesville, and W. D. Tremper, of Portsmouth; Judge Milton Clark, of Lebanon, Prosecuting Attorney Donald Melhorn, of Hardin county; Charles Doll, a negro attorney of Columbus, and W. J. Bebeisner, of Toledo, a labor leader.

ASQUITH WILL GO TO DUBLIN

London, May 11.—Fourteen persons have been executed in Ireland, Harold J. Tennant, parliamentary under-secretary for war, told a questioner in the house of commons today. Seventy-three persons have received sentences of penal servitude and six of imprisonment at hard labor, the under-secretary added.

Mr. Tennant said two others had been sentenced to death, but the sentences had not been carried out. The number deported from Ireland was given at 1,706. Those deported have not yet been tried and are still in the United Kingdom.

The number of casualties among civilians in the uprising in Ireland up to May 9, was given by Premier Asquith in the house of commons as 180 killed and 614 wounded.

Premier Asquith also announced in the house of commons this afternoon that he felt it to be his duty to go to Dublin today.

Irish affairs are occupying even a more important position in the house than they did at the time of the home rule controversy. Both houses of parliament are again engaged with them today. John Dillon's motion for discussions of the executions in Ireland, comes up in the house of commons and the house of lords is considering Lord Loreburn's notions expressing dissatisfaction with the Irish administration. The debate in the house of commons is regarded as the more important for there the government comes under the cross fire of the whole Irish party and of a large number of liberal members who are determined to bring to an end arrests and executions in Ireland by martial law.

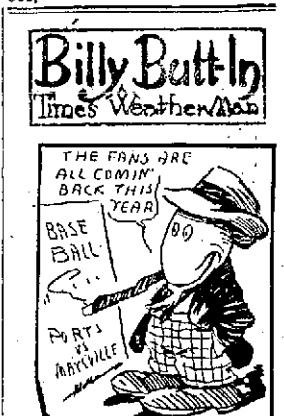

The execution of Thomas Kent, although it took place before Premier Asquith gave his assurance that no further death sentence would be carried out until the debate was concluded, has brought forth further protests from Irish parliamentary circles. The Nationalists also are concerned at the continued arrest and exportation to England of rebels from all parts of the country. The number of arrests has not yet been known, but it must be several thousand.

Troy, O., May 11.—Judge H. L. Fennel, of the court of appeals, was given the endorsement of the Miami County Bar Association here today, for re-election.

ONE KILLED IN A STRIKE RIOT

Tiffin, O., May 11.—As a result of the riot and fatal shooting at the plant of the Webster Manufacturing Company here last night, the remaining force of seven hundred employees who had until today refused to join the strikers, walked out this morning with noisy demonstrations. Four more strike guards were also arrested in connection with the killing last night of Albert Lattin, Jr., a striker, and the wounding of Raymond Talley, a spectator, and George Howell, a guard.

LUMBER PLANT BURNS
Elkins, W. Va., May 11.—Fire today destroyed the mill, machine shop and a million feet of lumber at the plant of the Laurel River Lumber Company at Jennings-town, W. Va., with a loss of $125,000.

LOAN ADVANTAGES

No. 2. THE ROYAL DEFINITE CONTRACT method of paying favors the borrowers. A straight loan due in three or four years seems easy to meet, but so many have found that the savings they intended to make for some reason or other have not been made, and they have only paid the interest. When the loan is due a renewal must be made with much worry and expense. A Royal weekly payment loan would have saved time and worry and would have had the loan partly paid.

WHEELERSBURG

A. M. Winkler, of Portsmouth, was the guest of his sister, Mrs. Eva Daulton, of Wheelersburg, Wednesday.

The Sheridan-Kirk Co. contractors, for the paving of the road from Sciotoville to Wheelersburg, received a large water tank on the Mary Jane tow boat Wednesday, also ten men arrived to help with the work. The boat will be used as an apartment for some of the men.

Mrs. Wilson was assisted in serving by her daughter, Miss Edith Wilson, New Boston school teacher, and Miss Ethel Clatts, teacher of Wheelersburg, who starts the tiny tots on their educational route little knowing where it may end. After refreshments the class and other guests assembled under the maples on the grassy lawn. Beneath the twinkling stars and silvery moon and as a sequel to their many happy school days, indulged in childhood games until the evening air reverberated with their songs and mirth. FIVE HURT, ONE MAY DIE,
WHEN TRESTLE GIVES WAY

Four foreigners, Joe Lancher, 41, Andrew Mattiasich, Steve Sakich, and Jim Postila and one American, R. P. Calkins, foreman, were badly bruised and narrowly escaped death in a serious accident at the C. W. Marshall Construction Co.'s C. & O. Northern camp on the Boggs farm a half mile on the other side of Harrisonville, Wednesday evening, about 5:30 o'clock. A trestle gave away under a loaded train of ten dump cars, the men, train and trestle timbers falling to the ground, a distance of twenty-seven feet.

Fellow employees who heard the crash of timbers and cars as they fell expected to find the crew killed when they reached the pile of debris.

Joe Lancher was the most seriously injured of the crew. He was taken from under a mass of cars, heavy trestle timbers and rock and dirt. He was pulled out and of them with salves that eat off the toes that stick to the stockings, bandages and plasters that make a package once and you ought to have seen that corn come off—just like a banana peel.

It's simple, wonderful. It's the new way, painless, applied in two seconds, never

A HEALTH RESORT

A Little of This Water Taken Before Breakfast Cleans the Waste From Stomach
and Bowels

Doctors everywhere send their patients to the Springs instead of loading their systems with drugs.
Thousands of sufferers from Constipation, Stomach and Liver troubles are sent by their physicians to drink this famous water. It does its work quicker and more thoroughly than drugs and leaves you feeling refreshed and invigorated.

Go to your druggist and get a bottle of Tollo Water from Dawson Springs, Kentucky, and start tomorrow morning. Pour out about a third of a tumbler of Tollo Water and fill the glass with plain water and drink it before breakfast. It will immediately empty the stomach and bowels of the accumulated waste that is poisoning your system.

When the system is clogged the stomach and liver can't do their work. Besides causing you to feel as if you had a lump in your chest and that stuffy, bloated feeling after meals, you get a headache, because the poison in the bowels has accumulated, the blood has taken it up and is carrying it through the system. In a little while it makes your skin yellow and blotchy, your breath gets foul and your tongue coated.
All these come from allowing the waste from previous meals to remain in the system too long.

Start Tollo Water tomorrow morning. The first glass will convince you of its really wonderful qualities. You will be clean inside; your food will go into a fresh, clean stomach ready to take up its work of extracting the nourishment—there will be no constipation or liver trouble.

THREE DEALS COMPLETED

Three deals in realty were completed Thursday by the H. A.
Bierley Realty company. They were as follows:

The firm sold C. H. Maupin's home on Baird avenue to Roscoe Donahoe of the Selby Shoe company. The consideration was $31-500. Mr. Bierley purchased Attorney George Sheppard's piece of property at 921 Tenth street and he sold Glenn Bierley's property at 1514 Twelfth street to Victor Howland.

There are 250 Silver Maple trees and 250 Carolina Poplars in the hands of a nursery company at 65c each if delivered in large quantities, on cars Portsmouth.

The trees are properly 2-inch in diameter at the base, ten to twelve feet high, and are bargains. Address Idlewild Realty Company, City. adv 11-2

Lewis was filed for probate property was left to Nettie Turner, his daughter, and Ethel Cole, grand daughter. The old home at 918 Washington street, is to belong to Nettie Turner and Ethel

THE TRUTH ABOUT
ECZEMA AND PILES

Thousands and thousands of people, says Peterson, are learning every week that one 25 cent box of Peterson's Ointment will abolish eczema and banish piles, and the grateful letters I receive every day are worth more to me than money.

I had Eczema for many years on my head and could not get anything to do it any good. I saw your ad and got one box and I owe you many thanks for the good it has done me. There isn't a blotch on my head now and I couldn't help but thank Peterson for the cure is great. Mrs. Mary Hill, 428 Third Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa.

I have had itching piles for 15 years and Peterson's is the only ointment that relieves me, besides the piles seem to have gone. A. B. Ruger, 115 Washington Ave., Reading, Wis.

Use Peterson's Ointment for old sores, eczema and all skin diseases. Druggists recommend it.

PROTECT YOUR HOME

Your home should always be protected against infectious disease by having ready for instant use a bottle of chlorine which is entirely free from acid.
It is a reliable and very effective acceptable which has a great many valuable uses right in the home.

Too many homes have been bereaved because germs of sore throat, scarlet fever and other infectious diseases have not been destroyed. Too many people have suffered with blood poisoning because no attention was given a scratch, bruise or hurt.

From any drug store get a bottle of chlorine. It is a powerful yet possibly safe germ killer and it kills infection instantly. Better get it now.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, O. Office Phone 50.

"Love Pies" are French pastries. They are made in individual pie crusts with cherry or strawberry preserves, and whipped cream or meringue. You will probably have to label them as I don't suppose your steady would know the difference between a love pie and a potato.

Dear Miss Wise—My hair is very gray, and I wish to dye it. Would you advise me to? If not, please tell me how should gray hair be washed. GRAY HAIRS.

Don't dye it. It is a never-ending, messy job to keep it touched up, for most hair grows about an inch a month; and worst, or best, of all, the deception rarely deceives anyone. The lines that ears and experience and thought have written into every mature face require the softening effect of the silver tones above it. Dyed hair has a hardening effect on some faces, and to others it gives an almost cruel look. But once having accepted gray hair, make of it your greatest beauty. It must be kept spotlessly clean, washed often. Use only the best and purest liquid soap, as free from alkali as possible, and treat it as the laundress does her fine linen. Put it through many rinsings to get rid of every particle of soap, the last one being quite cool and deep blue with indigo. Let the hair rest in this for a few moments, moving it about in the bath so as to absorb as much of the bluing as possible, and then dry it thoroughly with warm towels and vigorous rubbing. The bluing serves to soften the dulled, lifeless look which always results from washing gray hair and gives uniformity of shading. Streaked locks in gray hair are its worst feature, and especially is this true of blond gray hair. Brush it night and morning to get it the silvery gleaming that is so beautiful in well kept gray hair.

Dear Miss Wise—I expect to have my steady for dinner Sunday and was thinking of serving "love pies." Please tell me what they are and if it would be all right to have them. I am crazy about my friend and want to treat him just right. BLUE EYES.

Dear Dolly Wise—Should a girl of 13 wear her dress down to her shoe tops. Is my writing good? BLUE EYES.

Dear Miss Wise—My hair is very gray, and I wish to dye it. Would you advise me to? If not, please tell me how should gray hair be washed. GRAY HAIRS.

Dear Miss Wise: What do you think of a girl who will allow a boy friend to walk with her to a certain place and then refuses to let him walk back with her? (2) Is it proper for a boy friend to visit a girl at her home quite often and who are good friends and then not go out anywhere with her? (3) It is all right for a boy of 18 and a girl of 16 to keep company?

KENDALL AVE. YOUNG MAN.

There is nothing strange or startling about that. Girls do some queer things once in awhile. (2) It's all right if the girl will stand for it. Most girls would see that he didn't come very often if he were too "short" to take her any place. (3) No. They are entirely too young to think of such a thing.

Dear Miss Dolly—What is the cause and cure for styes on the eyes? MARGARET.

A sty is merely a boil, occurring on the margin of the eyelid. Lowered vitality, general disordered condition of the system, or lack of vital resistance on the part of the tissues forming the eyelid and eye strain cause them. Correct the general health to avoid them. The immediate treatment which may cut short the trouble consists in bathing the eyelid every hour with a hot solution of boracic acid (half a teaspoonful to a cup of water). Bathing in hot water will cause the sty to discharge pus and terminate much sooner than it otherwise would.

I wish to correct a statement made in this column last night in regard to Rock Island and Pacific stocks. We have been receiving the R. I. & P. stock report every day over our leased wire along with New York stocks for the past six months or more. The quotations on May 8, 1916 were 155.

Dear Dolly—Can you tell me the exact distance from Portsmouth to Akron, O. Will baby doll slippers and middy suits be popular this summer. What will make my eyebrows thick? What will take perfume stain out of a checked suit? I would like an early reply, if possible. BLUE EYES.

It's about 250 miles from here to Akron. The tendency in pumps seems to be towards the colonial, but the really new thing in low shoes this season is the Oxford. However, any and all kinds of slippers will be worn, so if you have any Baby Dolls, wear them by all means. Vaseline will make your lashes thick. Gasoline, chloroform, or ether, will take the stain out of your suit.

Dear Miss Wise—I am 23 years of age and still single. I can get lots of men for one or two nights, but they won't stick. Was wondering if I will ever get married. If so, it's about time. What steps should I take to start the ball rolling? OLD MAID.

You are liable to get arrested if you take anyone's steps. When the time comes for you to marry, the "right" man will happen along, perhaps. If he doesn't, the world is full of work that needs you. You should count yourself lucky that you aren't tied up to one man and can have the freedom to share your friendship with many men. Don't expect them to stick to you. They are just as free as you are and probably appreciate this fact more than you.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feed young—to do this you must watch your diet and bowels—there is no need of having a sailor complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—all eyes with no sparkle.

Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective.

"They help about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by taking up the liver and clearing the system of impurities. You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Melvin Neary Of Montana Visiting Old Scenes Here

Melvin Neary, of Montana, is visiting his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Neary, of Harrisonville.

Mr. Neary has been in Montana thirty years, has become thoroughly imbued with the large way of doing things in that country, and thinks he would find it difficult to accommodate himself to the more conservative methods of the older, and more populous East. He is one of the prominent citizens out there and has assisted in organizing three counties. Montana is the great silver state and Mr. Neary says the citizens are fighting on a great boom when the much talked of rise in the price of silver materializes. He says the mine owners are making preparations to stock up and renew the operation of their mines.

Mr. Neary has a historic land mark on his ranch, it being no more or less than the remains of the cabin which sheltered Lewis and Clark all one winter during their historic hike from the Mississippi to the Sunset Sea, a hundred years ago. The remains of the cabin consist of logs of immense size, being the Rocky Mountain fir, a wood that is practically indestructible save by fire. He thinks the county, and possibly the state, will take the matter in hand eventually and mark the spot permanently. He says Lewis and Clark are much nearer the people of Montana than they are to the people in this section. They don't take much stock in Pocahontas, but "Sacojaya," the splendid young Indian girl who guided Lewis and Clark and their outfit across the mountains in their historic march.

Years ago the patriotic society known as the "Daughters of the Golden West," took an interest in the matter and a fine monument to the Indian girl was erected in the public square of Portland, Oregon. Mr. Neary recognizes the great changes that have taken place in Portsmouth since he left Scioto county. He says Harrisonville faces a boom on account of the C. & O. Northern improvement, but says the people must be liberal and progressive in order to benefit by the changed conditions.

Efficient Use of Gas In The Home

Article XII.-Fakes and Frauds.

Occasionally agents call on consumers with devices which they claim will add to the efficiency of GAS appliances. These devices are generally worse than useless. If an article is worthy of consideration, the manufacturer prefers to sell it through the retail merchant. He knows his future success depends on satisfied customers; he investigates the merits of an article before he offers it for sale. The agent, however, sells what the retail merchant refuses to handle.

Craig Boy Is Still Puzzling Officials

County officials have not as yet made final disposition of Landy Craig, 17-year-old imbecile boy, but are now thinking of leaving him in the care of his mother, Mrs. James Craig, and to allow her $3.50 per week for his support and care. She is willing to do this and if the arrangement is made will take him to the home of relatives at Rarden. Mrs. Charles Mefford whom the officials urged to again take charge of the boy, she having cared for him previously for five or six months, was willing to do so for $5 per week but her husband was opposed to her again troubling herself with the boy.

WHEN HAYWARD ANDERSON SAW BLOOD WHERE MAN HAD JUST BEEN SHOT HE DECIDED IT WAS TIME TO LEAVE

Hayward Anderson, youngest son of Attorney T. C. Anderson, of this city, came uncomfortably near finding himself in the thickest of the big riot in Braddock, Penn., a few days ago.

According to a letter just received from Hayward, who is employed on a Pittsburgh monthly publication making cartoon work a specialty, he took a ride on a train because street cars were not running owing to a strike. When it came to a stop and he prepared to alight he was shocked to find the steps and platform covered with blood. He inquired as to what had happened and was told a man had been shot on the steps a moment before. A mob was nearby howling vigorously and Hayward, now thoroughly convinced that there was likely to be further trouble, lost no time disappearing from the neighborhood.

COUNTY NEWS

The recent high waters of the Scioto, which covered about one-fourth of the bottom lands in the vicinity of Lucasville, did not damage the corn crop, according to reports.

The county commissioners have awarded a contract to Ed Montavon for making fill approaches to the bridge which spans Pond Creek at the mouth of Cave Lick. The contract price is $275. Mr. Montavon will begin work in a few days.

David Cheatwood, weather prognosticator, dropped into The Times office, Tuesday, to hand out the weather "dope" for the next few months. Cheatwood is raising chickens on the Gregg farm, near Waverly. Providing all the eggs hatch, Cheatwood says he will have about 700 chickens under his care.

"Lookout for dogwood winter, which will be here within the next few days," says Cheatwood. "A cold snap is following these few warm days," according to Cheatwood's predictions. "It rained on Good Friday, and that is a sign that after the seventh Sunday following Easter the drought will start," says Cheatwood, who has the weather ready for next year. He says we are to have a very dry summer, the western states to be harder than the northern states. "Ohio will be protected by occasional rains." "On account of a dry summer this will be a good year for lowland crops; prospects are for a great wheat and hay crop; and potatoes, should be covered with straw to protect them from the drought," says Billy Butt-In's rival. "We will have a late fall and not much winter until Christmas."

"There will be a bumper fruit crop this year as the trees have not been stung by the insect that generally makes its rounds about this time of the year." The "insect" resembles the seven year locust and does not put in its appearance every year."

THE "COME-BACK"

The "Come-back" man was really never "down-and-out." His weakened condition, because of over-work, lack of exercise, improper eating and living, demands stimulation to satisfy the cry for a health-giving appetite and the refreshing sleep essential to strength. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules, the National Remedy of Holland, will do the work. They are wonderful! Three of these capsules each day will put a man on his feet before he knows it; whether his trouble comes from uric acid poisoning, the kidneys, gravel or stone in the bladder, stomach derangement or other ailments that befall the over-zealous American. Don't wait until you are entirely down-and-out, but take them today. Your druggist will gladly refund your money if they do not help you. 25c, 50c and $1.00 per box. Accept no substitutes. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on every box. They are the pure, original, imported Haarlem Oil Capsules.

UNCLE SAM GETS NOTE

struck the British war vessel, whereas the Sussex had met with an accident in some other way.

"However, on the basis of the American material, the German government cannot withhold its conviction that the ship torpedoed by the German submarine is in fact identical with the Sussex, for in accordance with this material the place, the time and the effect of the explosion by which the Sussex was damaged, agree in the essential details with the statements of the German commander, that there can be no longer any question of the possibility of two independent occurrences. An additional reason is constituted by the fact that officers of the American naval department found fragments of an explosive in the hold of the Sussex which are described by them upon firm grounds as parts of a German torpedo.

"Finally the counter evidence which was deduced in the note of the tenth ultimo from the difference in appearance of the vessel described by the submarine commander and the only reproduction of the Sussex then available, has proven to be untenable, inasmuch as according to a photograph of the damaged Sussex now at hand, the characteristic distinctions no longer existed at the time of the accident, while the Sussex in the photograph of the Daily Graphic inclosed in the note, only carried one mast and also showed the white gangway customary on passenger vessels on the level with the port holes O. W. S. the reproduction of the damaged Sussex shows a second mast and a uniform dark color and thus approaches in her outer appearance the description of the vessel as furnished by the submarine commander.

"In view of the general impression of all the facts at hand, the German government considers it beyond doubt that he was facing an enemy warship. On the other hand it cannot be denied that by the appearance of the vessel, under pressure of the circumstances, he formed his judgment too hurriedly in establishing her character and did not therefore act fully in accordance with the strict instruction which called upon him to exercise particular care.

"In view of these circumstances, the German government frankly admits that the assurance given to the American government, in accordance with which passenger vessels were not to be attacked without warning, has not been adhered to in the present case.

"As was intimated by the undersigned in the note of the fourth instant, the German government does not hesitate to draw from this resultant consequences.

"It therefore expresses to the American government its sincere regret regarding the deplorable incident and declares its readiness to pay an adequate indemnity to the injured American citizens. It also disapproves of the conduct of the commander, who has been appropriately punished.

"Expressing the hope that the American government will consider the case of the Sussex as settled by these statements the undersigned avails himself of this occasion to renew to the ambassador the assurance of his highest consideration.

the fourteenth century.

The object of the Germans in making these raids is to bring about a redistribution of our naval forces to their own advantage. After the attack on Hartlepool the admiralty stated that such raids must not be allowed to modify the general naval policy. This was sound sense. But now Mr. Balfour suddenly announces that alterations are being made in the distribution of our naval forces."

ENGINEER IS BLAMED FOR AMHERST WRECK

Washington, May 11.—The wreck on the New York Central lines near Cleveland, Ohio, March 29, in which twenty-seven persons were killed and forty-seven injured, was due, the Interstate Commerce Commission reported today, to the failure of Engineer Hess to see the signals or to read them properly on account of the dense fog in which his train was running.

The report to the commission cites the engineer's record since 1905 to show that he had been four times suspended for running past signals and was again suspended last December for striking the rear end of a train at Toledo, Ohio.

While the mother was in a nearby store shopping, Joseph, a 4-year-old son of Mrs. Freda Zucker-Walters, of the Boulevard, got up from his seat and losing his balance fell out of a pony cart on the Fourth street side of the Masonic Temple, Thursday noon. He struck the cement sidewalk with his face. Blood was streaming from his nostrils and his cries attracted a number of pedestrians who aided the mother in rendering aid to the boy who was assisted to the Seiler piano store on the opposite side of the street. It was found that he had escaped with bruises.

Made from Cream of Tartar, derived from Grapes

The quality of cake, biscuits and other flour foods is very largely determined by the ingredients of the baking powder with which they are made.

The most eminent scientists and food authorities are on record to the effect that a cream of tartar baking powder is the most satisfactory because of its healthful properties. It leaves no unwholesome residues in the food and renders the biscuit and cake healthful, appetizing and digestible.

VEGETABLE CALOMEL

Vegetable calomel, extract of the root of the old-fashioned may-apple plant, does not squalor. As a liver stimulant, it's great. It's a perfect substitute for ordinary calomel (mercury); in fact, it's better, because its action is gentle instead of severe and irritating—and it leaves no mean, disagreeable after-effects. Physicians recognize this and prescribe the may-apple root (podophyllin) they call it daily. Combined with four other standard, all-vegetable remedies, may-apple root may now be had at most any druggist's in convenient sugar-coated tablet form by asking for Santalol Laxative. If you forget the name, ask for the box that has the picture of the soldier on it. These tablets are small, easy to take and are really wonderful little performers. They quickly clean out the poisons that are causing your headache, constipation, sour stomach, biliousness, dizzy spells, bad breath and coated tongue. They are mild. They never gripe. And they are a bowel tonic as well as a cleanser and liver regulator. A 10c box should last you several weeks. A Physician's trial package (4 doses) will be mailed you free if you write mentioning this advertisement. The Santalol Remedies Co., 802 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

Many women do not recognize the difference between parsimony and thrift.

Miss Emma Hanko, economy expert at The Times' Better Foods school in Kendall Hall, took this up in an interesting manner in this afternoon's marketing talk. She says this subject is one of such deep and vital interest to her that she never knows where to find a stopping place. Her ideas of economy as experienced throughout her entire lecture and cooking course, are pleasing to the women who are attending her classes from day to day. These classes are large and deeply interested and most enthusiastic in their praise of everything Miss Hanko says and does.

They like her cooking and her easy methods, and many women who attend, come to her at the close of her class to tell her they have tried out some of her recipes and put some of her suggestions to the test, and like them all. In her talks from day to day, she has taken up the matter of food requirements in a general way and shown how it is necessary for the careful housewife in estimating the amount and kind of food needed for her family, to keep in mind the body weight, climate, occupation and sex.

Find Secret of Happiness
Miss Hanko considers in her housekeeping course, economy of time, strength and spirit, and shows how to find the secret of happiness and pleasure in home duties. She tells of a woman who had so much to do she didn't know what to do first, and therefore took her nap and got that off her mind. This woman, Miss Hanko says, was a good philosopher for her nap enabled her to get through with her duties without worry and fatigue, which are actually more tiring than the work itself. The advisability of a varied diet is being suggested from many points of view in Miss Hanko's cooking course here. She says that perhaps the greatest fault that can be found with any ordinary dietary, is its monotony. The wholesome foods that come to the table. The amounts eaten should be suggested by the appetite, which, when not perverted, is a fair guide.

Tomorrow afternoon, Miss Hanko gives what is easily considered the very best lesson of her entire series. In connection with her cooking demonstration on how to fry fish balls, how to pluck a fish and make a delicious potato salad and a fine devil's food cake, she gives a graphic illustration of the proper and attractive way of setting the table.

The following are some of Miss Emma Hanko's tested recipes. These are in addition to the ones demonstrated by her at the Times' Better Foods Better Homes School in Kendall Hall.

Queen Cake
8 tablespoonsful crisco, 1 1/2 cupsful flour, 2 teaspoonsful baking powder, 1 teaspoonful salt, 2 teaspoonsful lemon juice, 1 1/4 cupsful powdered sugar, 6 egg whites.

Cream the crisco gradually with the flour mixed with baking powder and salt, then add lemon juice. Gradually add sugar to beaten egg whites. Cut and fold mixtures together. Bake in a slow oven. It should bake longer than one hour. Cover with Opera Caramel Frosting.

Opera Caramel Frosting
1 1/2 cupsful brown sugar, 3/4 cupful thin cream, 1/2 tablespoonful crisco.

Boil ingredients together to the soft ball stage, which will take almost 40 minutes. Beat until right to spread.

Calve Tarts

Roll flake or plain pastry 1/8 inch thick, and cut in rounds to cover an inverted circular tin. Cover tins with pastry, prick several times and bake until delicately brown. Place one-half a caned peach in each case, and fill the cavity with one-half a blanched almond.

Apple Dumplings
2 cupsful flour, 2 teaspoonsful baking powder, 1/2 teaspoonful salt, 4 tablespoonsful crisco, 1/4 cupful milk, 5 apples, sugar, cinnamon.

Sift flour, baking powder, and salt together. Work in crisco with finger tips, add gradually milk, mixing with knife to a nice dough. Roll 1/2 inch thick, cut into squares and lay in center of each an apple, pared and cored. Fill up centers with sugar and the dough and pinch together. Place in criscoed baking pan, dot over with sugar and crisco and bake in moderate oven for 25 minutes or till nicely browned. Serve hot with milk. Sufficient for five dumplings.

Many Notables Are Coming To Attend G. A. R. Day Celebration

(By H. M. S.)

The committee of Vienna Camp, Sons of Veterans, Gilbert F. Dodds, Prof. S. D. Eckhart, Capt. W. H. Williams and Harry M. Sickles in charge of arrangements for the celebration of G. A. R. Day, Tuesday, May 23, with parade and a mass meeting at the high school auditorium, have received assurances from over Ohio Division that many notables are coming to see how Portsmouth honors the grand old veterans of the Civil war.

They are much interested, for, as was stated in The Times a few days since, this is the second G. A. R. Day, and it originated in good old Portsmouth.

Much regret is felt by members of Vienna Camp that the commander-in-chief, Col. A. E. B. Stephens, of Cincinnati, will be unable to be present. He writes:

"I know it would be a great pleasure for me to be with you, but I will have an engagement in Decatur, Ill., May 23, 24 and 25 to attend the G. A. R. and Sons of Veterans' encampment of Illinois Division. I know your celebration will be successful and will do much good in teaching patriotism and all the great principles that the Sons of Veterans advocate. I know it will be a big day, a great day in Portsmouth. All hail the G. A. R.!"

Col. T. E. Long, commander of Ohio Division Sons of Veterans, writes:

"Believe I'm booked four days in week of May 22, but I sure do want to come to Portsmouth and want to see how you fellows celebrate this new day and great day, G. A. R. Day. Am going over schedule and trains and see if I can not make Portsmouth for the evening of 23d."

Col. J. Edgar Sherry, Division secretary, of Springfield, writes: "Coming sure. Reserve place for me, but not on speaking program. Willing to 'hoof it,' or do anything I can to honor the good old veterans. Boys all over division want to get 'next' to your G. A. R. Day. Think Whiteley, Collins, Brown and Bushong will come with me."

The last mentioned are Senior Vice Commander C. A. Whiteley, of Akron, Assistant Secretary of Division E. A. Collins, of Springfield, and Capt. H. E. Brown, of Yellow Springs. Sherry and Brown are well known here. Mr. Brown is the "shrubbery man" that comes to Anderson's, Col. Whiteley is a prominent candidate for commander before the encampment at Marion, O., in June this year. Mr. Bushong is County Surveyor E. H. Bushong, of Bellefontaine, one of the prominent men in the order, but has never visited here. He and Manager H. M. Allen, of the Home Telephone company, are old friends, as Mr. Allen comes from the "High City" in Ohio, and Bellefontaine enjoys that distinction, she being a little nearer up to the sky than any other Ohio city. Past Division Commander D. Q. Morrow, of Hillsboro, expect to come. Col. Morrow and Past Division Commander Filmore Musser are "pals."

As to the arrangements for the celebration, everything is going nicely. All the patriotic orders are "on edge" and ready to do their part. It is expected the parade will be one of the finest and largest held in Portsmouth for years.

The automobile list to take the old veterans and their ladies in the parade, is filling up nicely and largely with the names of the same good, patriotic people who donated their cars last year. There are still a few cars needed, and several have been tendered that have not been placed on the list.

Members of Vienna Camp and of other patriotic orders physically fit to march, will understand that their place is on foot behind the colors, and all are urged to fall in. As soon as the necessary number of cars are secured the list will be closed and names published in these columns. Those wishing to donate cars for parade, call 998-R, or notify Harry M. Sickles, Times office.

Organize For Greater Portsmouth, Say Men In Touch With City's Interests

Economic environments and wonderful transportation facilities of the Portsmouth-Huntington, W. Va., zone places a great responsibility upon the Boards of Trade of the cities situated in this territory, according to Senator W. D. Trumper, who in discussing a greater Board of Trade for Portsmouth, said he could only reiterate the thoughts of Frank V. Knauss.

"Portsmouth should have a greater Board of Trade," declared the senator, "so that it can co-operate with other similar organizations in making this zone the greatest industrial center in the United States. The Boards of Trade in this territory should and will have harmony in action to bring results. There should be no individualism. Ironton, Ashtand and Huntington should co-operate with Portsmouth and harmony should prevail.

"It will take the concerted action of these organizations to draw attention to this zone. Every business man should become a member of the Board of Trade so that its influence to bring about this era can be greater.

"In my opinion the greatest piece of undeveloped territory in the United States is located in Kentucky and when the Tygart Valley district is opened there will be an unprecedented era of prosperity which everyone will enjoy.

"Then too, I believe that the state of West Virginia has the greatest amount of buried wealth of any state in the union. Our wonderful railroad and water routes make the development of this territory comparatively easy. Did you ever stop to consider that all our fuel comes to Portsmouth down grade?"

"Portsmouth is purely a manufacturing city," said Frank Stanton, "and it must depend upon a larger and better Board of Trade for continued expansion and encouragement. The co-operation of the Board of Trade in securing new ground for industries is essential. Then too, the advertising the manufacturers get through the Board of Trade is more valuable than all the campaigns promoted by the individual plants combined.

"The Board of Trade should and does represent the business interests of a city or community. Therefore it is important that every business man should become a member so his individual influence can be combined with others forming a powerful unit."

"It seems as if the retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers should largely compose the membership of a greater Board of Trade," said City Solicitor Anselm Skelton, in presenting his views on a greater Board of Trade, "but representatives from different professions, especially the legal and medical profession should affiliate with the organization. The commercial interests of the city are not wholly controlled by the merchants and the manufacturers for the legal and medical profession are active and help contribute to the general welfare of the community.

"Therefore, a greater and a more successful Board of Trade demands the membership of the legal and medical profession."

"I can add nothing to the ideas advanced by Frank Knauss why Portsmouth should have a greater Board of Trade," said Edgar F. Draper, when asked for his views.

WALTER EDWARDS AND BESSIE BARRISCALE IN "HONOR'S ALTAR," NEW TRIANGLE-KAY BEE PRODUCTION DEALING WITH THE CAPRICE OF A NEWLY-RICH MAN IN RELATION WITH HIS FAITHFUL HELPMATE.

Bessie Barriscale in "Honor's Altar," Columbia Tonight.

"Honor's Altar," the new Ince-Triangle drama, tells the story of a self-made captain of industry who tries to rid himself of the wife of his youth through an unscrupulous accomplice. It will be shown at the Columbia tonight. Frederick Mullery (Walter Edwards) has risen by his own efforts from poverty to a place of power in the world. He thinks that the wife (Bessie Barriscale), who was good enough to share the privations of the lean years, is now not brilliant enough socially. The glamor of the social world has cast a spell upon him, and he considers himself a real "lady killer." As a matter of fact, the women of his "set" tolerate Mullery because of his wealth, though they ridicule him among themselves.

"The Chain Invisible," World

Feature, At Lyric Tonight

Bruce McKee, the noted Broadway leading man, whose work opposite Blanche Bates, Grace George and other famous actresses, has established him in the hearts of theatre-goers, makes his film debut in a production of Richard Le Gallienne's "The Chain Invisible," which will be shown at the Lyric tonight. Gerda Helms plays the principal role opposite Bruce McKee and co-stars with him in the suspenseful moments. The story is based on a foreword by the author, in which he says: "It is impossible for two beings of dissimilar temperament to be thrown into each other's company often enough, without contact with others, not to fall in love with each other." The story is worked out in film form, in a most dramatic version, but within the bounds of conventionalized wisdom.

At The Exhibit

"The Modern Sphinx" is a very attractive three part American drama featuring Whitford Greenwood and Edward Gayer in what is called "a love story of the ages." The Egyptian settings at the beginning are artistic. The story is one of an engrossing sort. It pictures a young Egyptian whose father puts her to sleep for 3,000 years until her evil scheming nature is reborn by the power of love.

"Ella Wanted To Kope" is a Beauty comedy drama that brings out a splendid moral in a pleasant manner. A girl goes away with her mother's lawyer.

At The Arcadia

"Iron Rivals" is a two-part 101 Bison feature drama. ## Young Man Held On Charges Made By A 15 Year Old Girl

Noah Hensley, 22, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Rome Arthur, Thursday, and taken before Judge Thomas C. Beatty on a charge of having illicit relations with Nellie Edgerton, aged 15. Hensley denied the charges but said that he had been in the company of the girl several times.

Judge Beatty asked Hensley if he had not been in the habit of meeting the Edgerton girl at a theatre where he is employed as an operator, and the young man said that he had seen her there several times. He claimed that the girl was "crazy about him" and continued to call upon him while he was at work. He also said that the Edgerton girl came into the theatre several times during the past few weeks and that he would "give her a broom to help sweep out."

The girl, who was brought before Hensley, claimed that the young man was "responsible for her condition." She said she "liked Noah" and met him for the first time at a restaurant in the East End. She contended that Hensley accompanied her home once or twice while he was employed at the Mitchell Manufacturing company, and that she had called upon him several times at the theatre.

The court asked Hensley if he was not in the habit of taking young girls into the theatre during the day. Hensley said that he had met "some four or five girls" there but that he would put them to work.

Judge Beatty continued the case pending investigations. Both Hensley and the girl were taken back to the county jail to await developments in the case.

THEATRICAL

An unusual thing will be done this week at the Sun inasmuch as the popular Palace Players will repeat their big hit "The Girl in Red" once more and that once will be tonight only. If you have not seen it you are given this last opportunity. Many were turned away from the theatre last night because they could not get desirable seats and so the management decided, by popular request, to continue the play one more night. Many have been to see the play twice and some have witnessed every performance given of the piece this week. It is surely a captivating, enticing entertainment, and no less captivating is Zella Marston, as the "Girl in Red." No ordinary stock actress could essay this role as Miss Marston does, as it demands something more than mere speaking comedy lines with a French accent. The part calls for an actress with singing and dancing ability, and another surprise performance is given by Miss Marston in the second act, which is to say the least—most unusual. If you are not a follower of the Palace Players, you will be after you see this play, "The Girl in Red."

Spooners On Hillside Annoy Citizens; Are Arrested By Police

Acting upon complaints of Scioto Trail residents, Sergeant John Smith and Patrolman Pete Price made a hurry run to a point a short distance beyond Hempstead hospital late Wednesday afternoon, stole up a knoll on the west side of the road, and arrested a rather well-dressed couple, who were spooning in plain sight of a number of residents of that section.

Several empty beer bottles were strewn about the broun. The pair were dumbfounded at the sight of officers before them. The young woman began crying, begging the officers not to lock her up, and pleading that it was the first time she had ever gotten into trouble, or had been arrested.

The couple were marched down the hillside to the waiting patrol.

Plan To Award Contracts For Big Improvements On May 27

The $40,000 check of the state industrial commission together with the attorney general's transcript approving the proceedings or acceptance by that body of Portsmouth's flood wall extension bonds arrived Wednesday afternoon.

Mayor H. H. Kaps and other officials learned of it just as they were boarding the base ball special for Mayville. It has been decided to call a special meeting of city council for Friday night to pass the formal legislation confirming the sale of the bonds and authorizing the advertising for bids. The advertising will start Saturday and contracts will be awarded on Saturday, May 27, for both the extension of the flood wall from Chillicothe to Offene street and for restoring the city reservoir. Officials feel that by having the two lettings on the same day it will have the effect of attracting more bidders to the city. The check and transcript just received had been expected from day to day, but was a week in coming from Columbus. The check for the reservoir bonds of $40,000 had been previously received, the state industrial commission having facilitated the proceedings because it was regarded as an emergency issue.

It is also hoped to have the way clear for awarding the contract for motorizing the city fire department by June 10.

An ordinance to issue $12,000 bonds for the construction of the proposed Hill Top sanitary sewer system may also be introduced at this meeting. A certified copy of the ordinance recently passed by council approving City Engineer Samuel Harper's plans and specifications for the sewer system, was sent by Director Ralph Calvert, of the public service department, to W. H. Ditto, chief engineer of the state board of health Wednesday for that body's approval.

An ordinance may also be presented giving the Ohio Mausoleum Company a deed for a strip of ground in the Appel Circle at Greenlawn cemetery as a site for a mausoleum.

Jordan Boy Is Sent To Children's Home

George Jordan, aged 3, the lad who recently claimed that he accidentally shot and killed his mother, Mrs. Pamela Jordan, whose dead body was found at her home, Flat Woods, near Lucasville, a week ago last Tuesday, was sent to the Scioto County Children's Home Wednesday afternoon. The lad will be kept at this institution until the county authorities complete their investigations in the case. Roy Jordan, the boy's father, is confined in the county jail, charged with the murder of Mrs. Jordan.

FOUR PRISONERS ARE TAKEN TO WORKHOUSE

James Craig and Emerson Carlton, white, and Joe Moore and George Phillips, alias John Washington, better known as "Tenderfoot," comprised the quartette Police Clerk Harry Johnson took to the Cincinnati workhouse Wednesday afternoon. Craig was sentenced because he disregarded the mayor's warnings to stay away from Portsmouth. He did not appear unduly exercised over his going and while on the train once propped up his feet and began singing. Carlton, on the other hand, was greatly depressed. He was sentenced for cohabiting with Mrs. Belle Taylor. Moore was sentenced for "boot-legging," and "Tenderfoot" for holding up and robbing Emma Mosely. The Portsmouth colony at the Cincinnati institution now numbers an even dozen.

More Traffic Rule Violators Are Up Before Mayor Kaps

Prof. Frank Appel, superintendent of public schools, faced Mayor H. H. Kaps Thursday morning on a technical violation of the traffic rules.

Mr. Appel's machine had been left standing in front of his home on Eighth street, without any lights. Mr. Appel explained that it was due to a misunderstanding. His son had left the car there and he himself thought the boy intended putting the car away for the night, but said he forgot to do so. He was dismissed with a warning.

Joe Schneider, who had been ordered in by Officer Templeman for having his automobile standing in front of his home on New Seventh street, late Wednesday night without any lights, acknowledged this to be true but said he had found the garage where he keeps it closed owing to the lateness of the hour and that after he went into the house the storage battery ran low, causing the lights to go out. He was dismissed with a warning to be more careful in the future and also to provide his car with new license tags. The tags he now has were issued for another car previously owned by him.

Ralph Marting, who had been ordered in by Officer Beaumont, on a charge of spending out Chillicothe street late Wednesday night, pleaded not guilty, and in order to hear the testimony of the arresting officer, the case was continued until next Monday evening. Mr. Marting claimed he was in the Lyric theater at the time he was charged with speeding.

Deputy "Cleaning Up" Construction Camp

Charles Younger, 43, single, and John Smith, 32, single, were the first to be arrested by Assistant Deputy Sheriff Jacob H. Baer, Sciotoville, who started a "clean up campaign" in the construction camps along the Chesapeake and Ohio Northern railway the first of this week.

Deputy Baer swooped down on the Perkins camp early Wednesday morning and found Younger and Smith playing a game of crap. He placed them under arrest and took them to Sciotoville where he returned them over to Constable J. T. Stidham, who brought them to the county jail. A charge of gambling was placed against them.

THREE AND THREE

Once there were three little tailors in Tooley street, there are three little bank commissioners in New Hampshire. In an outpouring of the masses, the three little tailors, finding they alone made up the assemblage, quite naturally resolved they were the people, the whole people and all the people. The three little bank commissioners find themselves equally alone, they find themselves not the people, but the sole and proper guardians of the people and resolve quite as absurdly as their ancient prototypes, they are the sole guardians of the interests of the people and therefore since the people put their money in savings banks, these banks shall not advertise, because "an expenditure of money for the purpose of increasing their business must necessarily result in the impairment of the financial power of the institution." Whew, a wonderful exhibit of the sagacity of the watch dogs, or an exhibit of the wonderful sagacity of the watch dogs, or yet an exhibit of the sagacity of the wonderful watch dogs, whichever way you would have it served. The bank must not put its name on the building it occupies, must not print its name on pass books and checks, because all these are advertising, which must "necessarily result in the impairment of the financial power of the institution." That is ridiculous, true enough, but it is the ludicrous position to which the position of the New Hampshire commissioners carry them. Banks can not sit down and just grow, like a weed; their growth must be cultivated and promoted. No bank is above or finds useless publicity, which is advertising, of some sort. It is accounted by most banks that newspaper advertising is the best, most productive of results, but there are many other means of publicity used to advantage. The main fact is recognized that the business of a bank is to be both created and increased by bringing itself and its peculiar service to the notice of possible clientele. Because banks have recognized this truth accounts in a large measure for the tremendous increase in their deposits—people have simply had bored into them the advantage of keeping surplus money where it is safe against loss, fire, and robbery, and the all important virtue of thrift, saving. This was accomplished by advertising. An institution, such as a bank, builds its profit pretty much on the size of its deposits. When it has increased these from 50 to a 1,000 per cent by advertising, it can be nothing short of ludicrous to say an expenditure to such an end "necessarily impairs the financial power of the institution."

THE WAY IT IS NOT DONE

Tuesday, we drove over rural route No. 1 out of Portsmouth. This route runs from Bertha up Dry Run, across a hill down into Pond Creek valley, up the valley to Peach Tree Run, or whatever it is called, then up that run and finally over a hill into Carey's Run and down that and back to Bertha. The trip was a revelation, in the shocking condition of the route roads generally. We didn't think it possible there could be such an awful stretch of highway in all Scioto county.

There is just one thing to account for it, neglect and general and invincible incompetency. It wouldn't take much to immeasurably improve Dry Run and Carey's, just a bit of work would make the hill from Dry Run to Pond Creek reasonably passable. Considerable work will have to be done to make the Pond Creek pike and the way back from there to the hill, fairly good, but it is not one whit short of an outrage why some betterments have not been made long ago. One pike, for instance, there is the approach to a bridge washed out, making the crossing by the bridge impossible, while the fording here is deep and beset with huge stones, making it actually dangerous. It would not cost $25 to repair the bridge, a stone one, by the way, yet it has been in just that condition for years, about seven, we are told. These things are harder to believe, more so when we know that in the time since the county has been spending hundreds of thousands of dollars annually for road repairs. We have never been able to see where the repairs were made, but we got both sight and feeling, Tuesday, of where they have not been made.

One of the sights of the city, Wednesday, was to see a traffic officer arguing with a gray-bearded farmer and an ancient and decrepit gray horse, that they must turn around and enter Chilli-cothe street by the north prong of Gallia. The elderly gent allowed as there was no reason that he should turn back on the south prong, since he was "partly near that anyway and his nag, though silent, was some tired." But the officer won the argument and the cavalcade faced about, navigated down the east end of the market space and turned into the north prong, the farmer shaking the stock of a whip at the policeman and doing some really artistic cussin' about how city folks imposed on strangers.

They are telling many and varied tales of how and which way the Russians come to France, but of that France has no concern. Her one thought is the Russians have come and are going to keep on coming.

One man does not make a tribunal, at least, not in these parts, say the Chicago jurists, so in meeting they calmly abjure the action of the brother who declared Bacon wrote Shakespeare, and in so far as they are concerned, it was Shakespeare who wrote Shakespeare, and they are willing to let it go at that anyway.

SAFETY FIRST

Shonk.

We have heard something about men who tried to paint the rose, but, passing that hack, we notice many a West Virginia paper engaged in the singular task of trying to color the Lilly, and the color they have is black. These same papers watered and nourished the Lilly until it became a beautiful ornament to the attorney general's office, but now it is because it is seeking transplanting to the gubernatorial grounds that they would disguise it so none would recognize or abide with it.

Two Boston women, whose husbands are millionaires, have started a hat and blouse shop for women. One of their trade principles is that the article bought must suit the purchaser's style of beauty. Coupling that with things we have heard about the looks of Boston women, we can't see how the shop expects to do business enough to pay for the light and the plebeian trimmer.

One of the inexplicable things of the spring is an apparent increase in the number of wild birds. In both country and city this increase is notable, especially among the singing varieties. Right here in town, if one gets up while the sun and mists battle for supremacy on earth he can hear a concert wonderful in the array of performers and the sweetness of their tones.

We see comment yet on "the Irish revolution." All a mistake. In revolutions many of the participants get to be president, congressmen and divers other things; and all get pensions at one time or another. In a rebellion some get shot—you can hear the firing squad now in Dublin—others get sent to prison and the remainder are made to answer they never had anything to do with it and such a thought is the last thing they have in their minds.

He can't see it that way, to be sure, but the latest political joke is the fact that the Cincinnati Times-Star is densely oblivious to the fact that Judge Woodmansee, of its own burg, is a candidate for senator and is lamenting the Republicans of Southern Ohio have no one from their own section to vote for.

Charlie Dick thinks there are going to be more entries in the Republican side of the senatorial race. May be he thinks they will all qualify for the also-ran class, and he doesn't like being lonesome.

Scioto county farmers are getting there in the matter of modern equipment. Tuesday we noticed a tractor hauling a series of plows on the Williamson farm on the West Side. The tractor will do the work of several teams and it can be operated night and day in a rush. In time the bulk of plowing will be done in this way.

Abe Lilly says he has a right to be governor of West Virginia if he wants to be. Well, that depends a good deal on whether he can be and the extent and nature of the compact, expressed and implied, entered into for the present and the past.

Gracefully, but firmly, Mr. Wilson tells Germany these United States will attend to her business with other nations, and however wise and unselfish may be the German counsels in the matter, they are neither called for nor welcome.

It is to be wondered if Carranza takes the concentration of 45,000 troops on the border as a hint that he can get real good or take a licking?

Mr. Taft objects strenuously to being called colonel. It is not hard to guess why. He would not be put in the same category as a certain individual.

Miss Chameleon Moves

AFTER MISS CHAMELEON learned from Mrs. Owl that the eggs in the rubbish pile were alligator eggs and that Mrs. Gater had laid them under the rubbish the quicker to hatch them, she was more than ever interested in her find.

"I think I'll stay near here, where I can watch those things," she decided. "I'm tired of living over there in the bushes, anyway. I'll stay right here under this tree, where I can see everything Mrs. Gater does."

Now moving was no work at all for Miss Chameleon. She didn't even go back to her old home to tell it good-by! She simply hopped out a spot under some tall, drooping fern leaves, under the tree from which she had seen Mrs. Gater, where the shade was cool and the shelter ample, and there she stayed.

"This is going to suit me exactly," said she, as she turned her eyes up and down and around, making a careful inspection of her new surroundings. "Plenty of ferns will pass by me because I'm so near that rubbish and the tree. Plenty of shade will cover me because the fern leaves droop so low, and, best of all, I'm so close to the tree that I can run up there in a twinkling if there's anything I wish to see."

And indeed Miss Chameleon was right—everything turned out just as she had predicted. So many ants ambled past her without moving more than her long, darling tongue. The fern leaves hid her so well that the larger creatures of the woods who had their guesses Miss Chameleon was near, might have been glad to eat her for their dessert, went right by her home without noticing her. Of course the fact that she had turned herself a dull brown, exactly matching the color of the leaf mold under the ferns, protected her quite as much as the overhanging fern leaves.

What fun you would have had if you could have peeped into the words and could have seen Miss Chameleon as she lay there! And

O-O-MEINTYRE.

New York, May 11—Sam Wab and his sad-iron partner, Ling Sing, managing directors of the smoke-tailed dragon laundry just under Tom Long's chop-suey rest cure on Eighth avenue, staged their great act, "The Asbestos Kids," the other afternoon when fire swept the premises.

The fire drove all the Eighth avenue set away from the tables and the cashier, enveloped the laundry in un-laundered sheets of flame and kept the trusty smoke eaters on the hop for half an hour.

Daniel in his fiery furnace, or the justly celebrated boy of burning deck fame had nothing on Sam and Ling. Firemen were driven back from the laundry time and time again, but Sam and Ling stuck to their tubs. When the fire was finally doused the firemen went down to get the bodies of the asbestos kids.

They were in the cellar with jades and prayer stones and tubs of sands all around and still at their task of washing soiled linen. "Collabs, shilirs, bulued!" exclaimed Sam. "Aw hell!" said the brave firemen in chorus as they trooped out.

A Broadway film concern has received this letter from an ambitious cinema star aspirant:

I am desirous of becoming an actor in your company. I can't say that I have had any experience in this line, but I have had a little in the Amateur Minstrel Line.

I am twenty years of age, and am also married, although you would not think it if you should see me.

If you think that there is a chance of giving me a try-out, kindly advise me at once and I will respond immediately.

I can furnish you with my latest Photo, if necessary.

SHIP TURNS TURTLE; 41 ARE MISSING

San Luis Obispo, Calif., May 11.—Forty-one members of the crew of the steamship Roanoke, operated by the California South Seas Navigation Co., which turned turtle and sank when its cargo shifted during a gale 100 miles south of San Francisco, Tuesday afternoon, are missing today, and the Union Oil Company's tanker Lanning, is cruising the sea searching for four of the five life boats in which the ship's company took refuge when the steamer went down. The fifth boat drifted ashore at Port San Luis yesterday, carrying three famished sailors and the bodies of five of their mates who had died from exposure.

Captain Richard Dickson and his wife are believed lost, according to the tale of the disaster told from their hospital beds by the three survivors.

When the ship lurched before plunging downward, Mrs. Dickson was thrown into the sea and Captain Dickson jumped overboard to rescue her. They were not seen again. The Roanoke left San Francisco Monday with explosives for South American ports. The arrival of the life boat at Port San Luis brought the first news of the tragedy. The three men were too exhausted to relate details. They did not know how far off shore the Roanoke sank or what had become of the other four boats. The Roanoke carried no passengers.

Note In Which Germany Admits Attack On Sussex

Washington, D. C., May 11.—The German note signed by Foreign Minister Von Jagow and addressed to Ambassador Gerard, is dated May 8, and the Ambassador's cablegram transmitting it May 9. The text follows:

Supplementing his note of the fourth instant, concerning the conduct of the German submarine warfare, the undersigned has the honor to inform His Excellency, Mr. James W. Gerard, that the further investigation made by the German naval authorities concerned in regard to the French steamship, Sussex, on the basis of the American material, has been concluded in the meantime.

In conformity with the result of this investigation, the assumption expressed in the note of the undersigned, of the tenth ultimo, that the damage of the Sussex was to be traced back to a cause other than that of a German submarine, cannot be maintained.

"Such an assumption had to be arrived at with certainty from the material in possession of the German government, for itself, and without further knowledge of the circumstances connected with the torpedoing of the Sussex, the more so as apart from the points enumerated in the note of the tenth ultimo, the following facts had come to the attention of admiralty staff of the navy through reliable information. March 24, 1916, approximately at the same time as the Sussex, an auxiliary warship left the port of Falkstone, with a large transport of British infantry on board, on this same day a transport steamer was torpedoed in the channel, a few minutes preceding the explosion on the Sussex, she had passed through a mass of ship wreckage, which created the impression that a ship had sunk at that spot shortly before. All these facts justified the conclusion that the only case of torpedoing which could be considered under the circumstances had struck the British war vessel, whereas the Sussex had met with an accident in some other way.

"However, on the basis of the American material, the German government cannot withhold its conviction that the ship torpedoed by the German submarine is in fact identical with the Sussex, for in accordance with this material the place, the time and the effect of the explosion by which the Sussex was damaged, agree in the essential details with the statements of the German commander, that there can be no longer any question of the possibility of two independent occurrences. An additional reason is constituted by the fact that officers of the American naval department found fragments of an explosive in the hold of the Sussex which are described by them upon firm grounds as parts of a German torpedo.

"Finally, the counter evidence which was deduced in the note of the tenth ultimo from the difference in appearance of the vessel described by the submarine commander and the only reproduction of the Sussex then available, has proven to be untenable, inasmuch as, according to a photograph of the damaged Sussex now at hand, the characteristic distinctions no longer existed at the time of the accident, while the Sussex in the photograph of the Daily Graphic, enclosed in the note, only carried one mast and also showed the white gangway customary on passenger vessels on the level with the port holes. O. W. S. the reproduction of the damaged Sussex shows a second mast and a uniform dark color and thus approaches in her outer appearance the description of the vessel as furnished by the submarine commander.

"In view of the general impression of all the facts at hand, the German government considers it beyond doubt that the commander of the submarine acted in a bona fide belief that he was facing an enemy warship. On the other hand it cannot be denied that by the appearance of the vessel, under pressure of the circumstances, he formed his judgment too hurriedly in establishing her character and did not therefore fully in accordance with the strict instruction which called upon him to exercise particular care.

"In view of these circumstances, the German government frankly admits that the assurance given to the American government, in accordance with which passenger vessels were not to be attacked without warning, has not been adhered to in the present case.

"As was intimated by the undersigned in the note of the fourth instant, the German government does not hesitate to draw from this resultant consequences.

"It therefore expresses to the American government its sincere regret regarding the deplorable incident and declares its readiness to pay an adequate indemnity to the injured American citizens. It also disapproves of the conduct of the commander, who has been appropriately punished.

"Expressing the hope that the American government will consider the case of the Sussex as settled by these statements the undersigned avails himself of this occasion to renew to the ambassador the assurance of his highest consideration.

(Signed) "VON JAGOW"

OBREGON PLAYING POLITICS, CLAIMED; NO BREAK EXPECTED

Washington, D. C., May 11.—Administration officials today were hopeful that General Obregon, Carranza war minister, would sign immediately the military agreement prepared at El Paso by General Scott and Funston, on behalf of the United States. Despite the long delay of Obregon, it was pointed out that General Scott had made no report indicating the agreement might not be signed. Consequently, officials were not inclined to believe that the negotiations would reach the point where a break would occur between Mexico and the United States.

Unofficial reports said, the conference would meet again today at El Paso. Secretary Baker declared emphatically that he does not expect to order any additional troops to the border soon.

In certain quarters here the belief was expressed that General Obregon might be delaying signing the protocol for the sake of political advantage in Mexico. It was recalled in this connection that hints of friction between Carranza and Obregon have been contained in recent published reports. No official confirmation of these suspicions were available, however.

Secretary Baker expressed the belief that the delay is caused by difficulty in arranging details of a common agreement.

General Obregon's informal proposal for a joint border patrol of Mexican and American troops, telegraphed by General Scott, apparently was not considered seriously here. It was said President Wilson has indicated no change in his former attitude that United States troops should remain south of the border until the Carranza government can demonstrate its ability to prevent future raids on American border towns.

TO ASSIST MARRIED SOLDIERS

London, May 11.—The long-awaited government plan for assisting married soldiers to meet their household expenses while in the army will soon be made public. According to the morning newspapers, any man, single or married, will be permitted to apply for grants to enable him to meet such liabilities as mortgages, interest, building or furniture on instalments, rent taxes, insurance and in the case of married men, expense of education of children. The assistance granted will in no case exceed two pounds sterling weekly.

AIR CRAFT FALLS INTO POTOMAC

(BULLETIN)
Washington, D. C., May 11.—One of the large hydro aeroplanes which has been flying between Newport News and Washington, fell into the Potomac river near Mount Vernon, Virginia, early today and was wrecked. Three of the occupants, badly injured, were rescued by a tug boat. Two are missing.

AUSTRIANS OPEN NEW OFFENSIVE

Athens, May 11.—(Via Paris)—Prince Albert of Serbia will remain at Corfu at present with the general staff of the reorganized Serbian army. Serbia has purchased a second destroyer as well as a transport for the new Serbian fleet. Sharp fighting has taken place north of Valona which is apparently a signal that the Austrians have commenced their long threatened offensive against the Italians and Serbians in Albania.

Berlin, May 11.—(Wireless to Sayville)—Increased activity on both the Italian and Galician fronts is reported by the Austrian war office. The announcement follows:

"In Eastern Galician and Volhynia there was increased activity on the part of advanced detachments. There were no events of special importance.

"On the Italian front, the enemy, after a lively bombardment, yesterday, of portions of the Garfagna bridge and the Dobrodel plateau, made several attacks this morning at San Martino. He was repulsed every time.

WHALE SKIN SHIPPED FOR WHITE SHOES

Seattle, Wash., May 11.—Ten tons of skins of the Beluga, or white whale, were shipped today from Seattle to eastern shoe factories to be made into the white shoes now so popular among women. The Beluga abounds in Bering Sea and Cook Inlet, and the new fashion has stimulated the hunting of them. Only the inner skin is used, but it is so thick that four sheets of thin leather may be obtained by splitting.

Germany May Refuse Reparation In Cases Before Sussex Attack

Washington, May 11.—In a note received by the State Department yesterday by cable from Ambassador Gerard, Germany admits that a German submarine torpedoed the channel steamer, Sussex, in violation of the assurances given the United States, expressed regret for the incident, announced that the submarine commander had been "appropriately punished" and declares readiness to pay indemnity to Americans injured on the vessel.

It was indicated at the State Department that the German statement that the offending commander had been punished would be accepted and the Sussex case considered closed, except for arranging the payment of indemnities to the several citizens of the United States who were hurt. There probably will be no attempt to negotiate for these indemnities or for final settlement of the Lusitania and other cases pending, until sufficient time has elapsed to indicate how the last American note was received in Berlin and whether the new submarine policy is being lived up to.

Officials of the State Department noted particularly the passage of the note which said "in view of these circumstances the German government frankly admits that the assurance given the American government, in accordance with which passenger vessels were not to be attacked without warning, has not been adhered to in the present case."

This was regarded as indicating a purpose on Germany's part to decline to pay indemnities for Americans killed or injured in attacks on ships other than passenger liners prior to the date of the last note in which the German government promised that freight as well as passenger vessels would not be attacked without warning or without provision for the safety of persons aboard.

INDIANS AS U. S. CITIZENS

Washington, D. C., May 11.—The United States will gain 186 new citizens Saturday. They are Sioux Indians of Yankton, S. D.

Secretary Lane was on his way there today as the personal representative of the "great white father," the president of the United States, to conduct the ceremonies. Incidentally, he will present the Indians with patents to their allotted lands.

The action will mark the first real step in Secretary Lane's policy in giving all competent Indians full control of their individual affairs and placing them upon the same legal standing as all other American citizens. A feature of the ceremonies will be the presentation by Secretary Lane to each Indian of a leather purse, a small American flag, and a golden colored badge bearing the inscription, "a citizen of the United States." He will then greet each Indian by his "white" name.

Jellyfishes.

The bodies of jellyfishes are so soft that they are often destroyed by their own weight.

VAUX POND SCENE OF A GERMAN ATTACK

Paris, May 11.—German troops made an attack last night on French positions near Vaux pond, on the Verdun front, east of the Meuse. The war office announces that this attack was repulsed.

East of the Meuse, the statement says, there was a vigorous artillery action east of the Avocourt wood.

13 VESSELS DESTROYED

Portland, Ore., May 11.—Thirteen vessels from Portland have been destroyed in the war zone by mines or submarines since the European conflict began. With them was lost grain aggregating 300,000 bushels and valued jointly at $1,550,000.

OPENING GAME IN MAYSVILLE WON BY BURLEY CUBS, 4-1

McGraynor Invincible After The First Inning; Local Fans Attend Game

May 11.—With about 100 fans and runners present, the opening game of the season was played here at 7:30 p. m. The game was a good one, one that brought about the hearts of the Mayville fans.

It was a bright day, just the sort of day to see a baseball game and the Mayville fans were out in force to see the game.

The Portsmouth special arrived about 7:30 p. m. and the fans were waiting for the game to start. The game was a good one, one that brought about the hearts of the Mayville fans.

Manager Jones of the Cubs, selected "Mac" Graynor, Mayville's star pitcher of last season, to do mound duty in the game. Graynor was a good pitcher, one that brought about the hearts of the Mayville fans.

Graynor pitched a perfect game, one that brought about the hearts of the Mayville fans. He pitched a perfect game, one that brought about the hearts of the Mayville fans.

PLAY FLOSSY OPENING HERE SATURDAY

Now then for the first game in Portsmouth. It will be played in Millbrook Friday with the scrappy Mayville Burley Cubs as the attraction.

The opening first day festivities, the flossy stuff, has been saved for Saturday when practically all of the plants in the city will be idle and the employees will get a chance to attend the first 1916 league game in Millbrook this season.

There is no longer any doubt interest has been manifested in the new team and splendid attendance is looked for throughout the baseball year.

The initial appearance of the Cubs in Millbrook tomorrow will no doubt attract a whole flock of fans to the park and a new attendance record is looked for on Saturday.

On Saturday a parade over the principal streets will be held and Mayville and Portsmouth ball players dolled up in their new uniforms, officials of the club and city officials and possibly President Joe Carr of the league, will be in the baseball pageant. President Carr has notified William Gableman that he will bend every energy to get here for Saturday's big doings in the local baseball world.

The parade will form at the Washington hotel and it will disband at Ninth and Waller streets, where members of the River City hand will board street cars for Millbrook park. The ambitious athletes, both home and abroad, will ride in automobiles and President Gableman expects to arrange a lot of little tricks for the parade between now and Saturday.

At the ball yard Mayor Kaps will be asked to deliver a short speech on the great game and he will be followed by Mayor Davis of New Boston. The athletes will line up in center field and headed by the River City band will march to the plate, where they will line up and listen to the short talks of Mayors Davis and Kaps.

Mayor Kaps will toss out a new ball and the game will be on. But remember Mayville is here tomorrow just the same, the formal opening having been arranged for Saturday instead of Friday.

Crumbs Brushed Off Sport Table

Toledo, May 11.—"Iron Man" is the latest nickname prepared for the Toledo baseball club. Two Toledo sport writers are using the name exclusively in referring to the club. Whether it will become popular is problematical.

Crawfordsville Ind., May 11.—Eddie Summers, former member of the Detroit American league team, has been selected to coach the Wabash college baseball team.

Portsmouth fans returning from Mayville declare that Outfielder McGrawny pitched a wonderful game yesterday in the field.

The fans are sweet on McGrawny at the moment.

After the first two innings McGrawny was invincible. He always did have the Indian sign on Portsmouth.

Missot Jake Henson remained over in Mayville for today's game.

The Elks and Eagles of Mayville kept open house for all visiting fans yesterday and their homes were crowded all day with visitors. Everybody was royally treated.

Pitcher Jacobus stated last night that he was bothered by a high wind that swept across the Mayville park.

Kelly and McGrawny were the leading demerits for the Burley Cubs Wednesday.

De Lotella, a local boy certainly pitched a swell game for Huntington Wednesday. His team only made three hits and lost 2 to 1.

It looks like the Charleston Senators have a strong line up this season. The team has been completely revamped.

AUTO ENTRIES ARRIVING

Indianapolis, May 11.—Entries for the 50-mile automobile race to be held at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway next Decoration day have begun to arrive at the offices of the speedway here. Eddie Flockenbaker sent in his entry some time ago and more recently the three Chevrolet brothers, Louis, Arthur and Gaston, signed to start in the 300-mile contest.

Louis, the most noted of the three brothers, in entering the Indianapolis contest announced that he had abandoned his plan to start in the New York race on May 13.

ONE YEAR AGO

Remember what the score was in Portsmouth's opening game with Chillicothe last year?

Well, it was 7 to 2 in favor of Portsmouth.

The Babes had a lead of 5 runs up to the seventh, the score being 7 to 2 in their favor. Portsmouth made three runs in the seventh and piled up six in the eighth, defeating Moore from the mound.

It was succeeded by Christian, McCall, Test and Jacobus worked for Portsmouth. McCall being bombarded viciously.

Portsmouth made 15 hits and the Babes 3.

Sherman made three hits, two triples and a single. Mills also pounded out three hits. Josh Devore garnered three safe raps for the Babes.

Fans Enjoyed Great Trip

"It was one of the finest trips I ever made in my life," President Gableman said last night. "It seems to me that every Mayville citizen put himself out to extend hospitality to the River City excursionists and the pleasurable little jaunt will not soon be forgotten even if we did lose the opener."

Band Made A Big Hit

The River City band made a great hit in Mayville yesterday, in addition to playing a number of pieces in the ball yard the band rendered a concert in front of the White Hall hotel last night at 6 o'clock and it was enjoyed by several hundred people.

Low Scores In Openers

Did you notice the scores of the opening games in the Ohio State yesterday? Guess the teams didn't play all right ball. The six clubs as a whole only scored 11 runs, yet in the National Boston beat Chicago 11 to 10. Class will tell, so they say.

Much Interest Shown Here

"There is certainly a lot of interest in baseball this spring. We answered five times yesterday telephone calls about the score yesterday at Mayville as we did a year ago. Our telephones rang almost incessantly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon," said Lew Distel, a play house clerk, last night.

HELD PITTSBURGH TO SINGLE BLOW

Christy Mathewson pitched four innings against Pittsburgh Tuesday and held the Pirates to one hit. If Matty should round to form watch the Giants climb.

OVER 1,500 SAW GAME

Mayville fans turned out splendidly at the opening game with Portsmouth. Many of the stores closed for the game and Wednesday was a half holiday in Mayville. President Gableman stated last night that the paid admissions exceeded the 1,500 mark, which is going some for Mayville.

REDS ARE BLANKED

GOOD WAY TO BOOST GAME

Muskogee, Okla., May 11.—There is one municipality in Oklahoma that believes in helping baseball along. Muskogee is the place. Just recently the city council voted to let Muskogee baseball management use part of one of the public streets for an extension of the baseball park.

Fans Like The Giants

The Giants, although in last place, probably are commanding any other team in the country. For their home opening they played to 30,000 persons. They had a home Saturday crowd of 35,000 playing the Brooklyn and a crowd of 25,000 at home playing the Braves. Whether they play well or poorly they are always interesting. They are a team of color and personality.

THREE AND THREE

Once there were three little tailors in Tooley street, there are three little bank commissioners in New Hampshire. In an outpouring of the masses, the three little tailors, finding they alone made up the assemblage, quite naturally resolved they were the people, the whole people and all the people. The three little bank commissioners find themselves equally alone, they find themselves not the people, but the sole and proper guardians of the people and resolve quite as absurdly as their ancient prototypes, they are the sole guardians of the interests of the people and therefore since the people put their money in savings banks, these banks shall not advertise, because "an expenditure of money for the purpose of increasing their business must necessarily result in the impairment of the financial power of the institution." Whew, a wonderful exhibit of the sagacity of the watch dogs, or an exhibit of the sagacity of the wonderful watch dogs, whichever way you would have it served. The bank must not put its name on the building it occupies. Must not print its name on pass books and checks, because all these are advertising, which must "necessarily result in the impairment of the financial power of the institution." That is ridiculous, true enough, but it is the ludicrous position to which the position of the New Hampshire commissioners carry them. Banks can not sit down and just grow, like a weed; their growth must be cultivated and promoted. No bank is above or finds useless publicity, which is advertising, of some sort. It is accounted by most banks that newspaper advertising is the best, most productive of results, but there are many other means of publicity used to advantage. The main fact is recognized that the business of a bank is to be both created and increased by bringing itself and its peculiar service to the notice of possible clientele. Because banks have recognized this truth accounts in a large measure for the tremendous increase in their deposits—people have simply hadored into them the advantage of keeping surplus money where it is safe against loss, fire, and robbery, and the all important virtue of thrift, saving. This was accomplished by advertising. An institution, such as a bank, builds its profit pretty much on the size of its deposits. When it has increased these from 50 to a 1,000 per cent by advertising, it can be nothing short of ludicrous to say an expenditure to such an end "necessarily impairs the financial power of the institution."

THE WAY IT IS NOT DONE

Tuesday, we drove over rural route No. 1 out of Portsmouth. This route runs from Bertha up Dry Run, across a hill down into Pond Creek valley, up the valley to Peach Tree Run, or whatever it is called, then up that run and finally over a hill into Carey's Run and down that and back to Bertha. The trip was a revelation, in the shocking condition of the route roads generally. We didn't think it possible there could be such an awful stretch of highway in all Scioto county.

There is just one thing to account for it, neglect and general and inevitable incompetency. It wouldn't take much to immeasurably improve Dry Run and Carey's, just a bit of work would make the hill from Dry Run to Pond Creek reasonably passable. Considerable work will have to be done to make the Pond Creek pike and the way back from there to the hill, fairly good, but it is not one whit short of an outrage why some betterments have not been made long ago. One pike, for instance, there is the approach to a bridge washed out, making the crossing by the bridge impossible, while the fording here is deep and beset with huge stones, making it actually dangerous. It would not cost $25 to repair the bridge, a stone one, by the way, yet it has been in, just that condition for years, about seven, we are told. These things are harder to believe, more so when we know that in the time when the county has been spending hundreds of thousands of dollars annually for road repairs. We have never been able to see where the repairs were made, but we got both sight and feeling, Tuesday, of where they have not been made.

One of the sights of the city, Wednesday, was to see a traffic officer arguing with a gray-bearded farmer and an ancient and decrepit gray horse, that they must turn around and enter Chillicothe street by the north prong of Gallia. The elderly gent allowed as there was no reason that he should turn back on the south prong, since he was "perry near thar anyway and his nag, though old, was some tired." But the officer won the argument and the cavalcade faced about, navigated down the east end of the market square and turned into the north prong, the farmer shaking the stick of a whip at the policeman and doing some really artistic cussin' about how city folks imposed on strangers.

They are telling many and varied tales of how and which way the Russians came to France, but of that France has no concern. Her one thought is the Russians have come and are going to keep on coming.

One man does not make a tribunal, at least, not in these parts, for the Chicago-jurists, so in meeting they calmly abjure the action of the brother who declared Bacon wrote Shakespeare, and as far as they are concerned, it was Shakespeare who wrote Shakespeare, and they are willing to let it go at that anyway.

SAFETY FIRST

We have heard something about men who tried to paint the rose, but, passing that back, we notice many a West Virginia paper engaged in the singular task of trying to color the Lilly, and the color they have is black. These same papers watered and nourished the Lilly until it became a beautiful ornament to the attorney general's office, but now it is because it is seeking transplanting to the gubernatorial grounds that they would disguise it so none would recognize or abide with it.

Two Boston women, whose husbands are millionaires, have started a hat and blouse shop for women. One of their trade principles is that the article bought must suit the purchaser's style of beauty. Coupling that with things we have heard about the looks of Boston women, we can't see how the shop expects to do business enough to pay for the light and the plebeian trimmer.

One of the inexplicable things of the spring is an apparent increase in the number of wild birds. In both country and city this increase is notable, especially among the singing varieties. Right here in town, if one gets up while the sun and mist battle for supremacy on earth he can hear a concert wonderful in the array of performers and the sweetness of their tones.

We see comment yet on "the Irish revolution." All a mistake. In revolutions many of the participants get to be president, congressmen and divers other things; and all get pensions at one time or another. In a rebellion some get shot—you can hear the firing squad now in Dublin—others get sent to prison and the remainder are made to answer they never had anything to do with it and such a thought is the last thing they have in their minds.

He can't see it that way, to be sure, but the latest political joke is the fact that the Cincinnati Times-Star is densely oblivious to the fact that Judge Woodmansee, of its own burg, is a candidate for senator and is lamenting the Republicans of Southern Ohio have no one from their own section to vote for.

Charlie Dick thinks there are going to be more entries in the Republican side of the senatorial race. May be he thinks they will all qualify for the also-ran class, and he doesn't like being lonesome.

Scioto county farmers are getting there in the matter of modern equipment. Tuesday we noticed a tractor hauling a series of plows on the Williamson farm on the West Side. The tractor will do the work of several teams and it can be operated night and day in a rush. In time the bulk of plowing will be done in this way.

Abe Lilly says he has a right to be governor of West Virginia if he wants to be. Well, that depends a good deal on whether he can be and the extent and nature of the compact, expressed and implied, entered into for the present and the past.

Gracefully, but firmly, Mr. Wilson tells Germany these United States will attend to her business with other nations, and however wise and unselfish may be the German counsels in the matter, they are neither called for nor welcome.

It is to be wondered if Carranza takes the concentration of 45,000 troops on the border as a hint that he can get real good or take a licking?

Mr. Taft objects strenuously to being called colonel. It is not hard to guess why. He would not be put in the same category as a certain individual.

Miss Chameleon Moves

ARRIVE Miss CHAMELEON learned from how you would have enjoyed seeing Wise Mr. Owl that the eggs in the her get her dinner! She lay to still—nothing but her rubber and a rubber egg. She lay to still—nothing but her rubber and a rubber egg. She lay to still—nothing but her rubber and a rubber egg.

"I think I'll stay near here, where I can watch those things," she decided. "I'm tired of living over there in the bushes, anyway. I'll stay right here under this tree, where I can see everything Mrs. Gater does."

Now moving was no work at all for Miss Chameleon. She didn't even go back to her old home to tell it good-by! She simply hunted out a spot under some tall, drooping fern leaves, under the tree from which she had seen Mrs. Gater, where the shade was cool and the shelter ample, and there she stayed.

"This is going to suit me exactly," said she, as she turned her eyes up and down and around, making a careful inspection of her new surroundings. "Plenty of ants will pass by me because I'm so near that rubbish and the tree. Plenty of shade will cover me because the fern leaves droop so low, and, best of all, I'm so close to the tree that I can run up there in a twinkling if there's anything I wish to see."

And indeed Miss Chameleon was right—everything turned out just as she had predicted. When the ants came, she was in just the right place to see them. When they moved more than her long tongue, she darted her long tongue, darting tongue. The fern leaves hid her so well that she could creep up to the ants without being seen.

What fun you would have had if you could have peeped into the woods and could have seen Miss Chameleon as she lay there! And Eggs her right eye was carefully watching for danger, the left eye was keeping track of an ant that was getting nearer and nearer the opening in front of the fern home.

She lay so still—nothing but her two eyes moved.

No, sir, Mr. Ant never, never got off course the fact that she had turned herself a dull brown, exactly matching the color of the leaf mold under the ferns, protected her quite as much as the overhanging fern leaves.

What fun you would have had if you could have peeped into the woods and could have seen Miss Chameleon as she lay there! And Eggs

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY

O-O-M-INTYRE.

New York, May 11.—Sam Wain and his sad-iron partner, Ling Sing, managing directors of the smoke-tailed dragon laundry just under Tom Long's chop-suey restaurant on Eighth avenue, alleged their great act, "The Asbestos Kids," the other afternoon when fire swept the premises.

The fire drove all the Eighth avenue set away from the tables and the cashier, enveloped the laundry in unlaundered sheets of flame and kept the trusty smoke eaters on the hop for half an hour.

Daniel in his fiery furnace, or the justly celebrated boy of burning deck fame had nothing on Sam and Ling. Firemen were driven back from the laundry time and time again, but Sam and Ling stuck to their tubs. When the fire was finally doused the firemen went down to get the bodies of the asbestos kids.

They were in the cellar with jades and proper stories and tubs of suds all around and still at their task of washing soiled linen.

"Gillies, shirts, hauled!" exclaimed Sam. "Aw hell!" said the brave firemen in chorus as they trooped out.

A Broadway film concern has received this letter from an ambitious cinema star aspirant:

I am desirous of becoming an actor in your company. I can't say that I have had any experience in this line, but I have had a little in the Amateur Minstrel Line.

I am twenty years of age, and am also married, although you would not think it if you should see me.

If you think that there is a chance of giving me a try-out, kindly advise me at once and I will respond immediately.

I can furnish you with my latest Photo, if necessary.

Many women do not recognize the difference between parsimony and thrift.

Miss Emma Hanko, the economy expert at The Times' Better Foods Better Homes school in Kendall Hall is taking this up in an interesting manner in today's marketing talk. She says this subject is one of such deep and vital interest to her that she never knows where to find a stopping place. Her ideas of economy as experienced throughout her entire lecture and cookery course, are pleasing to the women who are attending her classes from day to day. These classes are large and deeply interested, and most enthusiastic in their praise of everything Miss Hanko says and does.

They like her cooking and her easy methods, and many women who attend, come to her at the close of her class to tell her they have tried out some of her recipes and put some of her suggestions to the test, and like them all. In her talks from day to day, she has taken up the matter of food requirements in a general way and shown how it is necessary for the careful housewife in estimating the amount and kind of food needed for her family, to keep in mind the body weight, climate, occupation and sex.

Miss Hanko considers in her housekeeping course, economy of time, strength and spirit, and shows how to find the secret of happiness and pleasure in home duties. She tells of a woman who had so much to do she didn't know what to do first, and therefore took her nap and got that off her mind. This woman, Miss Hanko says, was a good philosopher, for her nap enabled her to get through with her duties without worry and fatigue, which are actually more tiring than the work itself. The advisability of a varied diet is being suggested from many points of view in Miss Hanko's cookery course here. She says that perhaps the greatest fault that can be found with any ordinary dietary, is its monotony. One should eat all of the plain, wholesome foods that come to the table. The amounts eaten should be suggested by the appetite, which, when not perverted, is a fair guide.

Tomorrow afternoon, Miss Hanko gives what is easily considered the very best lesson of her entire series. In connection with her cookery demonstration on how to fry fish balls, how to pluck a fish and make a delicious potato salad and a fine devil's food cake, she gives a graphic illustration of the proper and attractive way of setting the table.

Young Man Held On Charges Made By A 15 Year Old Girl

Noah Hensley, 22, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Rosie Arthur, Thursday and taken before Judge Thomas C. Beatty, on a charge of having illicit relations with Nellie Edgerton, aged 15. Hensley denied the charges but said that he had been in the company of the girl several times.

Judge Beatty asked Hensley if he had not been in the habit of meeting the Edgerton girl at a theatre where he is employed as an operator, and the young man said that he had seen her there several times. He claimed that the girl was "crazy about him" and continued to call upon him while he was at work. He also said that the Edgerton girl came into the theatre several times during the past four weeks and that he would "give her a broom to help sweep out."

The girl who was brought before Hensley claimed that the young man was "responsible for her condition." She said she "liked Noah" and met him for the first time at a restaurant in the East End. She contended that Hensley accompanied her home once or twice while she was employed at the Mitchell Manufacturing company, and that she had called upon him several times at the theatre.

The court asked Hensley if he was not in a habit of taking young girls into the theatre during the day. Hensley said that he had met "some four or five girls" there but that he would put them to work.

Judge Beatty continued the case pending investigations. Both Hensley and the girl were taken back to the county jail to await developments in the case.

Jordan Boy Is Sent To Children's Home

George Jordan, aged 8, the lad who recently claimed that he accidentally shot and killed his mother, Mrs. Pamela Jordan, whose dead body was found at her home, Flat Woods, near Lucasville, a week ago last Tuesday, was sent to the Scioto County Children's Home Wednesday afternoon. The lad will be kept at this institution until the county authorities complete their investigations in the case. Roy Jordan, the boy's father, is confined at the county jail charged with the murder of Mrs. Jordan.

Spooners On Hillside Annoy Citizens; Are Arrested By Police

Acting upon complaints of Scioto Trail residents, Sergeant John Smith and Patrolman Pete Price made a hurry run to a point a short distance beyond Hempstead hospital late Wednesday afternoon, stole up a knoll on the east side of the road, and arrested a rather well-dressed couple, who were spooning in plain sight of a number of residents of that section.

Several empty beer bottles were strewn about the ground. The pair were dumbfounded at the sight of officers before them. The young woman began crying, begging the officers not to lock her up, and pleading that it was the first time she had ever gotten into trouble, or had been arrested.

The couple were marched down the hillside to the waiting patrol. They took care to sit far up in front to keep from being seen, and on the way to the city they requested Smith to drive the wagon through side streets. At police headquarters they registered as Pat Cline, of Columbus, and Lydia Collins, of Huntington. He later changed his name to George Kerrigan. She has gone under the name of Rosa Bush and was until recently employed at the Biggs house.

They were locked up on disorderly charges, but friends later secured the young man's release on bond. They were fined $25 and costs each in police court, Thursday, the woman to work out her fine at the hospital.

Plan To Award Contracts For Big Improvements On May 27

The $40,000 check of the state industrial commission, together with the attorney general's transcript approving the proceedings or acceptance by that body of Portsmouth's flood wall extension bonds arrived Wednesday afternoon.

Mayor H. H. Kaps and other officials learned of it just as they were boarding the "base ball special" for Maysville. It has been decided to call a special meeting of city council for Friday night to pass the formal legislation confirming the sale of the bonds and authorizing the advertising for bids. The advertising will start Saturday and contracts will be awarded on Saturday, May 27, for both the extension of the flood wall from Chillicothe to Off-nere street and for restoring the city reservoir. Officials feel that by having the two lettings on the same day it will have the effect of attracting more bidders to the city.

The check and transcript just received had been expected from day to day, but was a week in coming from Columbus. The check for the reservoir bonds of $40,000 had been previously received, the state industrial commission having facilitated the proceedings because it was regarded as an emergency issue. It is also hoped to have the way clear for awarding the contract for motorizing the city fire department by June 10.

Contractor Job Phillips has been awarded the contract of constructing the Capehart sanitary sewer west from Jefferson street, between Front and Second streets. He already has the work well under way.

May Sell Automobile
The public service department is considering plans for constructing a stairway in the big well at the city pumping station, believing it to be necessary for the safety of the men. It will replace the present makeshift wooden stairway.

More Traffic Rule Violators Are Up Before Mayor Kaps

Prof. Frank Appel, superintendent of public schools, faced Mayor H. H. Kaps Thursday morning on a technical violation of the traffic rules.

Mr. Appel's machine had been left standing in front of his home on Eighth street, without any lights. Mr. Appel explained that it was due to a misunderstanding. His son had left the car there and he himself thought the boy intended putting the car away for the night, but said he forgot to do so. He was dismissed with a warning.

Joe Schneider, who had been ordered in by Officer Templeman, for having his automobile standing in front of his home on New Seventh street, late Wednesday night without any lights, acknowledged this to be true but said he had found the garage where he keeps it closed owing to the lateness of the hour and that after he went into the house the storage battery ran low, causing the lights to go out. He was dismissed with a warning to be more careful in the future and also to provide his car with new license tags. The tags he now has were issued for another car previously owned by him.

Ralph Marting, who had been ordered in by Officer Beaumont, on a charge of speeding out Chillicothe street late Wednesday night, pleaded not guilty, and in order to hear the testimony of the arresting officer, the case was continued until next Monday evening.

WRONGDOING.
If society is to be further uplifted, it is to be kept from slipping back, it must hold firmly to the right of saying that wrong is wrong, no matter who commits it, or how guilty others may be. If there can be no responsibility and no condemnation, till we get a perfect world, there can be no way of holding the world up to the level which it has already reached.

Deputy "Cleaning Up" Construction Camp

Charles Younger, 43, single, and John Smith, 32, single, were the first to be arrested by Assistant Deputy Sheriff Jacob H. Baer, Sciotoville, who started a "clean up campaign" in the construction camps along the Chesapeake and Ohio Northern railway the first of this week.

the Perkins camp early Wednesday morning, and found Younger and Smith playing a game of crap. He placed them under arrest and took them to Sciotoville where he returned them over to Constable J. T. Spidham, who brought them to the county jail. A charge of gambling was placed against them.
